

Radio Amnesty Terms and Conditions

Participating retailers will accept any analogue portable radio.

The discount offered is at the discretion of the participating retailer and may vary from store to store.

Discounts are offered on selected models only by the participating retailer.

The BBC and commercial radio are not responsible for the range of products available.

The customer should return their radio to the retailer for a refund in the event of it not working. This is not the responsibility of the BBC or commercial radio.

Some radios traded in will be recycled under the Government's WEEE Directive.
